ign, yet never for a moment did he lessen s energies in the law. Alexander Smith In the thick footprints of departed men."

"The footprints of John M. Butler are so big and thick that any young lawyer may safely walk therein.

Merrill Moores: John M. Butler was a great lawyer. He was a laborious student and exceedingly thorough in the preparation of his cases. When he went into the argument of a cause it was safe to pre-sume that he had exhausted the authorities and understood every possible aspect of his case. He tad a forcible manner of pre-senting a lead, proposition which made him very frective with courts, and he was by no means weak in jury trials. His practice was very extensive and he was probably better known and respected as a lawyer by the bench and bar of the Supreme Court of the United States than by the judges of the State courts. Younger the judges of the State courts. Younger than any of the rest, he was as long as twenty years age the fitting associate and peer of Governor Baker, the two Hendrickses, Senator McDonald, General Harrison and the other leaders of the bar. He was accustomed to reading his political speeches, which were carefully prepared arguments of considerable length, not enlivened by a trace of humor. Usually the reasoning was more adapted to a court or a legislative body than to a popular audience, and he was not appreciated on the stump. Any of his speeches would abundantly repay the most careful reading and study. To those but slightly acquainted with him he seemed cold and unsympathetic. He was not. Those only who knew him best knew how kind and generous he was and how devotedly attached he was to his family and friends. He was a great and good man.

Democrats Against Union Labor. The Lieber-Taggart Tammany police in electing candidates for the municipal ticket was to snub the labor union element as much as possible. Lieber and Frenzel started the ball rolling by defeating August Tamm for the Democratic nomination as clerk, in the face of Mr. Tamm's record as a labor leader. The nomination as councilman at large of O'Connor, who roke up the Freight Handlers' Union, was then secured. Charles Stuckmeyer, the man whom the Tammany nominated as city clerk, prevented, so the union bakers claim, a settlement of their controversy with Parrott & Taggart. but three safe hits, Hogriever met the ball square in the sixth and saved another blank. Fisher, on the other hand, was heavily batted at the opening, and seven safe hits in the first inning gave the locals six earned runs, the side batting around. Hulen's two-bagger in the second and two singles gave them another in the second, and in the fourth they had Fisher in the hole again. He followed Hulen's twobagger with two basses on bails, but Frank hit to Motz, who cut Hulen off at the plate and covered first again in time to complete a double. That relieved the pressure and the locals could not score. Singles by Newell and McFarland and a homer by Hogan gave the visitors three more runs in the seventh and in the eighth two more hits and a "homer" added three more to their score. Meantime, however, Kuehne had driven the ball over the fence, so Indianapolis was still one behind. In the last inning Lally hit a hot one to Canavan, and Werden scored him with a home run drive. Frank hit a hot one to Newell, who stopped it, but made a bad throw to first. The ball bounded into the right ld bleachers and though Motz was soon up after it Frank scored before the crowd would let him find the oall. Fisher opened Indianapolis's half with a safe one to right field, but Kuehne made quick action on Hogriever's low one and a double play left the bases clear when Rost went out on a fly to Strauss. Newell played a great game at third, as did Strauss for the locals at second. Attendance, 700. Score:

The Indianapolis and Cincinnati teams will play a series of six games immediately after the close of the season. It may result in a transposition of the two clubs, as President Brush has promised his Cincinnati constituents a winning team next season. -Kansas City Star.

It is amusing to read the comments of the Boston and New York reporters these days when their clubs are not playing championship ball. "Wild pitching," "rank errors," "weird umpiring" and "consider-ing the man that played behind" the pitcher are some of the phrases used. Milwaukee has secured a new shortstop, named Hyleman, of the Maysville (Ky.) team. President Johnson is authority for the statement that the young man is the fastest youngster to be found anywhere. President Brush was looking after the young man for one of his teams, but the Brevers stepped in ahead of him.

It looks funny to see ball players, when they move about in the hotel lobbies before starting for a game. All come from their rooms in their stockinged feet. This is because the hotel managers object to having their carpets cut with the spikes of the players' shoes. After the players arrive in the lobby the work of putting on the shoes begins. Like men walking on eggs or other perishable produce do they move about the lobby for fear of breaking the marble pavements. It is not until they get into the conveyance that is waiting to take them to the park that they feel easy. Captain Ewing, of Cincinnati, has ordered all his men to buy slippers, ranging in price from 25 cents to $1.50, to wear out to the grounds. This will obviate all possibility of bills for torn carpets or broken marble slabs.

The uncertainties of baseball have been fully realized in Kansas City this week. The Blues, after a triumph at Indianapolis which no other team has achieved in the Hoosier capital this season, returned home week ago filled with pennant winning arrival here they have lost five straight games, a record which has disgusted the average patron of the game and filled Manager Manning's heart with sorrow.—Kansas City Star of Saturday.

The baseball season is nearly over. There are only a few more games to be played in the Western League. Indianapolis seems, to have a cinch on the first place. The Saints had a chance to win the pennant, but hard luck prevented them from doing so. Now it looks as though they were sure of win-ning second if they play good ball and do not run into a streak of bad luck. It is going to be close between the home team and the Kansas City team, but Manager Comiskey says that he will win from the lues or die in the attempt .- St. Paul Pio-formation in the injunction standing against the Roby racing people, and that the hearing had been set for Thursday morning. It will be conducted by Mr. Kopelke, Attorney-general Ketcham being at Chattanooga. The information is in the nature of a supplementary proceeding, taking in those who are believed to be about to open another racing meet on a new track built near the old one, merely for the purpee of defeating the purpose and intent of me law. Governor Matthews and the Attorney-general had a consultation Saturday, in which it was determined to proceed against the alleged new association, and to prevent, if possible, the evasion of the law. The bill was prepared and forwarded at once to associate counsel Kopelke. The State proceeds on the belief that the race backers of Roby have had their three fifteen-day meets, as allowed line, among them about one hundred ladies in gay costumes. The Shelbyville Military Band will furnish the music and give a The title of the cost in the period of six months of racing weather, and that more is not lawful. The title of the case is the same, the grand concert during the races. Entries are coming in at the rate of thirty a day. Maj. Taylor, the champion colored cyclist of the world, will make an effort to lower his record, while famous trick riders will give exhibitions during the day. Wheelmen should address Elwood Carter, secretary Big Diamond Bicycle Club. Greensburg, for entry blanks and further particulars. Hammond Fair Association, John Condon, Rodman H. Wells, John Kelsey Dwyer, Louis E. Roman and all other persons whose names are to plaintiff unknown. Delegates Welcomed to Atlantic City by the Mayor-Reports of Officers.
